

Storage-as-a-Service

We understand. You just need some space.

YOUR PARTNER IN PERFORMANCE

JelecOS won't just sell you a chunk of disk space and disappear; we work with you to determine what sort of storage best suits your application's performance needs, and then build your solution accordingly.

MONEY: MEET MOUTH

JelecOS Storage-as-a-Service is backed by aggressive and industry-leading Service Level Agreements and Quality of Service metrics to guarantee you get the performance and storage availability your applications demand. Don't take chances with the bytes you write: with JelecOS Storage-as-a-Service you can bank on our dedication to quality.

CALL JELECOS TODAY

We're ready to assist you with your data storage needs, so call JelecOS today at 402.955.0489 to speak with an engineer.

Not all data storage is created equal. JelecOS is here to help you understand your real operational storage needs and to build a solution specific to your environment: Need screaming-fast IOPS to support VDI, Databases or Big Data applications? We've got you covered. Just filing away some dusty old data to meet retention rules? We'll help you de-clutter. And with Quality of Service guarantees and Service Level Agreements backing every byte, you can rest assured that your storage will always meet your performance needs.

- Four-tiered storage to meet any IOPS requirements, from simple archiving to lightning-fast read/writes and everything in between
- Scalable, elastic and secure storage to meet any business and compliance need
- Storage-as-a-Service means you never have to manage vendors, hardware or capacity planning; JelecOS does it all

Managing storage is a complex and costly job for most businesses that don't specialize in advanced data management. Sizing, purchasing, provisioning and maintaining storage arrays suitable for long-term and secure data retention takes time, money and dedicated expertise; why build it all yourself when JelecOS has all that talent at our fingertips? Our on-site storage engineers have the expertise and know-how to design, build and manage your storage using IT best-practices and a Compliance-Ready Environment hardened against today's security threats. And JelecOS Storage-as-a-Service is backed by Quality of Service and Service Level Agreements that can't be beat.
