

Your data is your business. And we've got your back(up).

How much data are you willing to lose? How long can your business survive without the data that drives it? Your data is your business, and our business is keeping that data safe and available. The JelecOS Disaster Recovery-as-a-Service (DRaaS) solution provides reliable, secure and cost-effective data backups in a Tier-III Certified data center. And with our versatile suite of storage and software solutions, JelecOS can custom-fit a Disaster Recovery plan to meet your specific business needs.

Scalable monthly licensing allows you to pay as you grow

Daily full and incremental backups give you flexibility and peace of mind

WAN acceleration, deduplication and data compression reduce transmission sizes, bandwidth usage and storage costs, saving you time and money

How much critical customer and business data can you afford to lose if your servers crash today? If your data isn't being safely moved off site for backup and recovery your business is vulnerable, and lost data means a loss of money, time and reputation. Our expert deployment of Veeam's industry-leading Backup & Replication software suite gives JelecOS the tools and talent to provide world-class data protection with personalized service.
